As the leading case management membership association, CMSA serves multiple purposes. These include providing professional collaboration across the healthcare continuum and advocating for patients' wellbeing. CMSA is also dedicated to improving health outcomes by fostering case management growth and development, impacting health care policy, and providing evidence-based tools and resources.

Case managers are patient advocates who help their clients understand their current health status and assist them in finding out what they can do about it. They also help patients understand why those treatments are important. In this way, case managers are catalysts who help guide patients and provide cohesion to the other health care professionals on the delivery team. All this enables clients and their families to achieve goals more effectively and efficiently.

CMSA's BOD consists of individuals who possess extensive experience with diverse perspectives. Each year, members are sought from all disciplines and perspectives, those who have the expertise and desire to serve and represent CMSA as a whole. For additional information on requirements and expectations, please see the "Position Descriptions".

CMSA is looking for individuals who:

1. Are recognized leaders
2. Have demonstrated expertise and experience
3. Are willing to serve, if elected, and willing to commit the necessary time, energy, and effort to participating in CMSA activities

Nominees should provide information on their relevant expertise and experience, previous and/or current work with CMSA, and previous BOD experience outside of CMSA. Candidates' names will be available only to the CMSA Nominating Committee and BOD, and only the names of the slated individuals will be released publicly.

The CMSA BOD may host up to 3-4 face-to-face Board meetings each year, with additional work conducted by conference calls and emails, as necessary.

Currently, travel expenses for meetings are reimbursed, and conference registration fees are waived. Two Board are meetings held in conjunction with CMSA's Annual Conference.

Board members are not compensated for their service.
